

NORWEGIAN CRUISE LINE INTRODUCE SINGLE CABINS

Well not exactly single cabins but studios! Norwegian Cruise Line will launch their new ship, Norwegian Epic in June this year. They have created a 'first' in the new ship market – single studio cabins! You can see prices on page 37 relating to four sailings; you can travel on your own from as little as £659 for 7 nights. That's less than £100 per night, exceptional value for sole occupancy! As there are only 128 studios onboard and prices are subject to availability, we recommend you book sooner rather than later to avoid disappointment! Here is some information produced directly from NCL's website:

"EPIC EXCLUSIVE Only on Norwegian Epic will you have the opportunity to experience all the Studios & Studio Lounge have to offer. The Studios are designed and priced for the solo traveller and offer private key card access to the Studio Lounge which is a shared private lounge that boasts a bar and comfy seating... a perfect place to hang out. When it's time for a little rest & relaxation escape to your Studio with a window view to the corridor and flat screen TV. This completely new exclusive key card access-only category is unlike anything you have ever experienced before"

We'll look forward to single cruisers giving us a first hand report on the studios and the ship!

YOUR PERSONAL CRUISE CONSULTANCY

Dear Friends,

Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises have launched several of their Cruise itineraries for the new 2011/12 season and we have included our hand-picked selection within this Newsletter. Most of those featured are Mediterranean itineraries and we expect all other areas to be loaded within the next few weeks. As a result of this, we have decided to put back our new brochure launch for 2011/12 another month in order to cover cruises for all areas that we have hand-picked for itinerary and value. Our website will also update as new cruises arrive. So, you may wonder why you are reading a different style of Newsletter this month. Simple. It's a mixture of news, views, offers for sailings in 2010, updated offers for early 2011 and, as promised the first for the new season Med, summer 2011. As you all know, we have welcomed Vicky back to the family so to speak and she has taken up her new role in Marketing and Advertising. We are all excited about the Celebrity Eclipse launch in April from Southampton. Roadshows are on the horizon. River cruises are back on the agenda. So is the sunshine we hope! We hope everyone has had a good Easter break and look forward to meeting up with many of you in the weeks and months to come.

HELP US TO CELEBRATE CRUISE IN'S 10th ANNIVERSARY

In June 2010, we will celebrate our 10th anniversary. In that time we've dedicated ourselves to giving the highest possible standards of personal service. As a result we've won several awards for exceptional service to the cruise industry from various cruise lines and the Travel Trust Association. In the next few months we plan to celebrate our success with all our friends and clients by offering a variety of events, promotions and social events. You'll find details of the first on Page 24. These events and offers will be available only to Cruise In Club Members, that is those who have booked and cruised with us in the past. Watch out for details!

10 & 11 NIGHT CANARY ISLANDS

A Canary Isles cruise would not be complete without a visit to the three main islands of Tenerife, Gran Canaria and Lanzarote. Each island offers a radically different experience. From the coastlines to the mountains it's a world of contrasts with unforgettable secret bays, black sand, and long golden beaches, giant cliffs, deep ravines, exotic woodlands, and volcanic landscapes of impossible shapes and much, much more. Madeira is a traditional port of call and has been ever since cruising began. It's full of historical monuments, picturesque villages and breathtaking views. And all this on one of the largest ships in world!

PANAMA CANAL CRUISING

As many of you know, we only feature four or five Panama Canal cruises during the year. Currently, as well as Celebrity Cruises, Royal Caribbean International and Holland America, we've added another great 18-night itinerary on Cunard's 5-star Queen Victoria. Of course, you also have another option to cruise the Panama Canal. That is to take a Caribbean cruise that goes into the Gatun Lake, the huge artificial lake that forms a major part of the Panama Canal. The lake carries ships for 33 km (20 miles) of the Canal's total, 77 km (48 mile) length. The lake was formed between 1907 and 1913 by the building of the Gatun Dam. When it was built, Gatun Lake was the largest man-made lake in the world and the dam was the largest earth dam. Sailing into the lake gives you a terrific taster although, of course, nothing compares to a full east-west transit experience. Keep an eye on our website for any new offers that may come along, as well as, of course, in our newsletters and brochures.

11 NIGHT CANARY ISLANDS

Be one of the first to cruise on this spectacular ship! This itinerary will bring warmth and sunshine to many of your days as you cruise the Atlantic to the three main Canary Islands ports of call, Tenerife, Gran Canaria and Lanzarote. All three have different landscapes. Tenerife, the largest island, damp and lushly vegetated in the north, sunny and arid in the south. Gran Canaria offering miles of golden beaches and sand dunes. Lanzarote, the most easterly of the islands and just 71 miles from the Africa coast, with its extraordinary lava landscape. Also, we must not forget the beautiful tendered stop at Madeira, plus historical Lisbon, both places well worth a longer visit perhaps in years to come!

ULTIMATE 14 NIGHT MED TREASURES AND ITALIAN MED

The magnificent, 160,000 ton, Independence of the Seas has been enchanting cruisers since her launch in May 2008. You will enjoy the splendid service, excellent food and wonderful cabins. She is one of the largest cruise ships in the world. The onboard facilities are fabulous: an ice-rink, rock climbing wall, miniature golf, in-line skating, Flowrider, boxing ring, a shopping mall with bars, restaurants, wine-bar, Latin jazz bar, and Ben & Jerry's ice cream parlour. A superb ship, gorgeous ports of call and the weather invariably exactly as you like it. And these two 14-night itineraries are, as the saying goes, absolutely fabulous.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

It's always hard at Christmas to know what advice to give friends and clients when we are asked for a cruise in the Caribbean or somewhere exotic. The first question we are asked is why we rarely advertise any Christmas cruises. It's simple really. Everything is against you at that time of year. Flights double in price and sell out within weeks of timetabling. Stateroom prices echo the same feelings. The weather for flying often wipes out flights galore if there is the slightest foggy morning or snow on the ground. The airports are heaving with every seat on every aircraft taken. The list goes on and on. So, when a cruise appears on a brilliant ship with high standards and superb entertainment sailing from a home port there is, no doubt, a massive attraction. To hell with the weather, we can suffer that. It's so easy. Drive to the port, drop as many cases as you want by the side of the ship, park up and you're on! That's what so many of you have obviously decided, as we only have 5 cabins remaining on our allocation for the wonderful Independence of the Seas sailing on 21st December 2010 from Southampton for 18 nights to the Mediterranean. The price certainly was the bonus for those wanting to be looked after over the Christmas and New Year period and with the least effort. So, you haven't booked and thought the chance had gone, look no further if one of the following cabins suit you! You may not come back with a Caribbean suntan, but you will come back rested and ready for the remainder of our British winter!

1 x Interior Q grade £1449pp
1 x Promenade PR grade £1499pp
2 x Ocean View I grade £1599pp
1 x Junior Suite JS grade £2499pp

Price per person based on twin occupancy includes port taxes, full board and entertainment on cruise

All these are currently between £315 and £670 per person cheaper than current prices. Where else could you spend Christmas and New Year for 18 nights from just £80 per person per day or for pure indulgence, in a Junior Suite at just £139 per person per day?!

AND THERE'S MORE!.....

See Page 45 for the newly launched Christmas Cruise for 2011 on Independence of the Seas at similar prices. It may be nearly 2 years away, but the early bird catches the worm!

WE'VE ALL BEEN TO SOUTH AMERICA - WE WISH!

The fact is none of us at Cruise In have been to South America, though we'd all love to go. The office sweep-stake is currently taking bets on who'll be the first to get there. The odds-on favourite is Kim but there are no certainties. But although we haven't done this particular cruise many of our friends and clients have! They all speak highly, raving even, about the cruise. They use words such as 'awesome, fantastic, superb, marvellous, the best cruise ever' and, occasionally, 'it was wet and misty!' There, that's honesty for you. We can't predict the weather, of course, wherever we send you! And, anyway, nobody flies across the South Atlantic to go sun bathing! It's the sheer adventure of visiting the land of the massive Andes, with their condors; the Amazon with its little ol' river; Brazil with its nuts and its shimmying footballers. It's a whole continent just waiting to be explored. Naturally you can't see everything on a cruise. But you can see an enormous amount. And don't forget, to make the most of your long-haul flight, you can add-on nights in Buenos Aires if your cruise starts or finishes there.

16 NIGHT SOUTH AMERICA & ANTARCTICA

For many people, especially the British, the lure of the Falkland Islands is irresistibly strong. The tragedy and the pride, not to say the ongoing political tension, make a visit there inevitably fascinating. Just the prospect of sailing round the famous Cape Horn smacks of a nautical achievement not many cruisers have achieved. It is a definite notch on your belt. The scenery, the wildlife, the culture, they're all a world away from any other place on earth. These are cruises of a lifetime. And don't forget, you could even add some nights in Buenos Aires to extend your holiday!

AZAMARA CLUB CRUISES... IS IT FOR ME?

If your answer is no, why not? The Azamara Club Cruises you'll find on the next three pages represent some of the best value you're ever likely to be offered anywhere in the cruising world! That's some claim! And we can back it up. The exclusive Cruise In prices just cannot be matched. To be honest, we sometimes wonder why you don't bite off our hands to get them. Some clients do of course. They love Azamara Club Cruises. Can't get enough. Others say, at 30,000 tons, the ships sound too small for them. Often, people make up their minds without even trying them. But when you look at what's on offer, and what's included in the price, you'd be mad to miss out. You should dive into the ocean and swim to the ships to take advantage of the value! The prices are that good. The service, the standards, the luxury, and the amazing Cruise In prices, genuinely make the offers too good to miss. You owe it to yourself, at the very least, to find out. Get on the phone now, before the offers are gone.

CARIBBEAN MAGIC

AZAMARA JOURNEY

14 NIGHT CARIBBEAN MAGIC

Forget everything you know about the Caribbean. These two itineraries will show you a side of the islands you might never know existed. Yes, you'll still hear the rustling of palm trees but you'll also witness a gentler, unhurried Caribbean, a world larger cruise ships simply cannot take you to. It's the Caribbean of your dreams. From the tropical reefs of St. Barts to the sun-drenched beaches of Basse-Terre, there are fascinating new perspectives at every turn. It's a smaller world of more typical Caribbean towns. A world of sidewalk bistros and gingerbread houses; a world of market days, of avocados and coconuts, of sweet potatoes and every kind of tropical fruits and vegetables, of spices and fresh fish, of fine batik wraps and local arts and crafts and paintings.

Gratuities included in the price
Free house wine at lunch and dinner

14 NIGHT EUROPEAN ADVENTURE

It's rare we have a cruise starting in the north and ending in the Mediterranean. How many times do we include a journey through the Kiel Canal? Plus an overnight stop at Bordeaux? How many ships are small enough to call at Menorca? How often do you get the chance to tour beautiful Rouen? Who has ever heard of the port of Gijon in Spain?

It's an itinerary, together with regular ports of call such as Amsterdam and Gibraltar, to satisfy the most avid cruiser. And all on the wonderful 30,000 ton Azamara Journey, with its feeling of a sophisticated country house hotel, with just 700 like-minded passengers and the pleasures of life backed up by great service.

THERE ARE ONLY SEVEN SEAS, BUT THOUSANDS OF RIVERS.

Not that we cruise all of them, of course, far from it. But if you've never considered river cruising you could be in for a pleasant surprise. Naturally it's a different world from sea cruising. The superlative luxury of sea cruise ships simply can't be emulated within the confines of a river vessel. The star ratings used are totally different. That said, the best quality river ships - and we only use top quality vessels - are extremely comfortable, even luxurious. It's just that ocean-going cruise ships have put practically everything else, including 5-star hotels, in the shade. Have you ever heard the phrase 'ditch crawling'? It's the sneering remark made by yachtsmen about any river craft activity. They can sneer all they like. You should worry when you're taking it easy, watching the world go by so close you could touch it. One moment you're on the blue Danube, eyeball-to-eyeball with a herd of friendly Friesians, and the next moment you're in the centre of Salzburg listening to the magic of Mozart in his hometown. Or maybe you're on the Douro River in the heart of Portugal's vineyards. The variety is huge. From the Dutch bulb fields in spring to the special magic of our Rhineland Christmas Markets cruises there is truly something for everybody. A word of advice. If you're thinking about a river cruise, book as soon as we advertise them. They sell out like hot cakes, especially our charter cruises.

RHINE CHRISTMAS MARKETS CRUISE

22 - 27 NOVEMBER 2010

THE RHINE CHRISTMAS MARKETS ON 4-STAR LUXURY ELEGANT LADY

Cologne ■ Koblenz ■ Wiesbaden ■ Rüdesheim ■ Bonn ■ Cologne

COME AND JOIN US ON WHAT WE HOPE WILL BE OUR BEST CHRISTMAS MARKETS CRUISE EVER!

“ This year we were unable to charter the 100 cabin Statendam, but have found a beautiful replacement in the 4-star luxury 64 cabin MV Elegant Lady, built in 2003. The itinerary is very similar to our 2008 cruise. This includes the extremely popular Wiesbaden Twinkling Star Market which we added in 2008 for the first time. We will be sailing from Cologne to Koblenz, Wiesbaden, Rüdesheim, Bonn and back to Cologne in time to spend 24-hours there, giving us plenty of time to visit one or all of the city's five Christmas markets. The buzz and atmosphere of all the markets is always a great pleasure, full of good cheer and merriment. Rüdesheim is a real Christmas fairyland. We expect it to be, as usual, the star of the show. It is set among charming meandering lanes and is truly delightful. And in the evening, what better than to venture out to our regular hotel tavern for a drink and some local entertainment? Bonn is different to any other market mainly because of its magnificent setting around the superb cathedral. On top of this there are also the wonderful department store windows to see, many of which are shown in this brochure. On board, there will be as usual the wonderful party evenings; the musical entertainment; the company of our Cruise In friends and, above all, the lovely Christmas spirit. Roll on November for our next Christmas Markets cruise! Come and join us! ”

NEW THIS YEAR

Cruise commences in Cologne

Our 2010 river cruise charter departs and finishes in Cologne, not Düsseldorf as in previous years, allowing more time at the markets and easy transportation to and from Cologne.

Cologne Christmas Markets

The itinerary has been reversed to enable a full day at the end of cruise in Cologne to visit one or all of their five Christmas markets.

Additional night in Brussels

Add an additional night pre-cruise in Brussels if you are travelling by Eurostar and ensure you have a relaxing time on your journey out! Stay in a 4-star hotel in Brussels on Sunday 21st November at an additional cost of £50pp which will enable you to choose a Eurostar departure from St Pancras to suit your own travel arrangements. On Monday morning, the Cruise In coach will collect you from the hotel door for your onward travel to port side in Cologne.

Change of departure and return dates

In 2010, we will commence and finish one day later than in previous years, namely Monday to Saturday, enabling easier travel arrangements with options to stay in Brussels or Cologne for additional nights.

Eurostar – St Pancras or Ebbsfleet

This year, all our trains stop at Ebbsfleet. Our chosen train for outbound travel is the 08.57 from St Pancras or 09.13 from Ebbsfleet, returning at 13.59 from Brussels arriving Ebbsfleet 14.45 or St Pancras 15.03. If you choose to stay in Brussels on the way out, your 3 train choices are 08.57, 11.57 or 14.34 from St Pancras.

Full board throughout the cruise

Full board from time of embarkation on Day 1 to breakfast on Day 6 as detailed above.

NOT INCLUDED: Gratuities, transfers from flights, drinks, tours and personal expenses. Additional nights 4-Star bed and breakfast in Brussels pre-cruise or Cologne post-cruise from £50pp.

Full details are in our dedicated 4 page brochure available online www.cruisein.co.uk

LOST PROPERTY: WHERE ARE MY FAVOURITE SHOES?

During my time at P&O Australia Cruises I received many calls from passengers who'd disembarked after a fabulous cruise only to discover they'd left a favourite item of clothing in their cabin. In the mad rush to squeeze the last breakfast in, it must slip people's minds to double check under the bed, in the wardrobe, the bathroom etc. Unfortunately the golden rule for P&O Cruises and many other cruise lines is, for hygiene and health reasons, items of clothing including hats, shoes etc. are destroyed at the end of each cruise. You can imagine the size of the storage capacity the cruise line would need if they were to keep everything they found! Therefore it has to be said, if you forget something that's not an item of great value, you have to forget it. So please, always have one last look around the cabin or you can wave good bye to your favourite shoes, socks, or cowboy hat, as they set off to a new destination...the bin! If you happen to leave a valuable item onboard, such as a camera or jewellery, contact us and we can point you in the right direction. It goes without saying there is never 100% guarantee the items will be found. If they are, and you want to be reunited with them, don't forget it'll be at your own expense. And shipping things back from overseas can be very expensive! I remember Scott, Kim's partner, leaving his evening-suit carrier circling on the carousel at Miami port while he jetted off home. The next time he saw it was three weeks later, by which time his wallet was £100 lighter. It would almost have been cheaper for him to buy a new suit. Trust me, at Cruise In we've enough lost property stories to fill a book. Now, where are my favourite shoes? Oh no! I bet I left them down under! It's a good job I love shopping!

The 'Baltics' is our ungrammatical shorthand word for all the countries and places you can cruise to in the Baltic Sea region. You can take your pick: Denmark, Estonia, Finland, Germany, Latvia, Lithuania, Norway, Poland, Russia, Sweden, Ukraine. For most people today, the choice is simply where would you like to go. But if you've few grey hairs, it's worth reflecting on what a brilliant period of history this is. Within reason you can go anywhere. Only a few years ago the iron curtains were drawn. Now the drapes are open and you can cruise in luxury and enjoy the freedom of it all. Spectacular doesn't begin to describe the sights you might see. The Summer Palace - 'it ain't much but it's home' - in Saint Petersburg is a not-quite typical example. The 24,000 islands of the Stockholm archipelago is one of our special favourites. We've all done the 'Baltics', some of us many times. And we'll continue to return because there's always something new to do and to see. What did you miss when you were last there? Did you get to Berlin? Did you fly to Moscow on that day tour when you were in Russia? No, never mind, do it next time. Have you been to Riga? It's an architectural must, a jewel, 'it's a city impossible not to love'. Everyone says so. The whole Baltic region is full of variety, full of culture, full of invitations. To go once is to go back again and again.

HOME PORTING IN PALMA, MAJORCA

One of the highlights for me of the initial launch of Royal Caribbean ships that will be on duty in the Mediterranean in 2011 was the fact that Grandeur of the Seas is to be based in Palma, Majorca for the summer. I know that you may wonder why I am talking about a ship that is 14 years old, but at 74,000 tons, she is one of the friendliest, happiest and most enjoyable around and absolutely ideal for creating a real 'holiday' feel. Just look at the prices for a two week, back to back cruise. If you are wanting the best of both worlds and are dubious of 14 nights of cruising, you can add any amount of time on the wonderful holiday island of Majorca. It's a beautiful island, with something for everyone. For many years, before our introduction to cruising, we would visit numerous places on the island and we had a wealth of hotelier contacts, north, south, east and west! Three nights in Palma is a wonderful city break add-on and you can even watch all the cruise ships come into the bay from your hotel room! Enjoy the numerous beach resorts from Cala D'or on the East coast to Puerto Pollensa on the North West tip. The mountain range through to Valdemossa offers the chance to stay at some very exclusive establishments, and a trip to Soller is almost a must if you are touring. Enough dreaming. Get booking! Cruises and holidays don't come any better than this!

NCL'S MAGNIFICENT NEW NORWEGIAN EPIC WILL SPEND SUMMER 2011 IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

The newest member to Norwegian Cruise Lines fleet, Norwegian Epic, launches this coming June when she makes her maiden voyage from Southampton to New York. From there she will head to Miami to commence her Caribbean season of cruising. The great news is, in May 2011 she heads back to Europe, giving us the chance to book on a seven night Med itinerary and experience this spectacular ship. Some Epic facts; 153,000 tons; length 1080 feet; engines diesel electric; cruising speed 22 knots; guests 4200. As NCL say, 'prepare to embark upon the remarkable'. It all began with Freestyle Cruising – when Norwegian Cruise Line reinvented the way people cruised by giving them the freedom to do 'whatever'. Now NCL's incredible new ship reinvents cruising once again. You have the opportunity to try out the huge multi-slide aqua park, show off your strikes at one of the two ten pin bowling venues onboard or get involved in some sporting activity in the two-storey sports complex; abseil a wall, show off your skills in the batting cage, tackle the 24 foot-high climbing cage, the list goes on! If this all sounds too much, head to the Mandara Spa for some relaxation. The evening entertainment options are endless too, from the world famous Blue Man Group to the first true ice bar at sea, you really will be spoilt for choice. Talking of choice, there are 20 different dining options onboard, the ship really is taking freestyle cruising to a grand scale. Norwegian Epic, this is 'truly cruising re-imagined'.

ULTIMATE NO-FLYING, ULTIMATE SHIP, ULTIMATE 14 NIGHT MEDITERRANEAN TREASURES AND ITALIAN MEDITERRANEAN

The magnificent, 160,000 ton, Independence of the Seas has been enchanting cruisers since her launch in May 2008. You will enjoy the splendid service, excellent food and wonderful cabins. She is one of the largest cruise ships in the world. The onboard facilities are fabulous: an ice-rink, rock climbing wall, miniature golf, in-line skating, Flowrider, boxing ring, a shopping mall with bars, restaurants, wine-bar, Latin jazz bar, and Ben and Jerry's ice cream parlour. A superb ship, gorgeous ports of call and the weather invariably exactly as you like it. The two 14-night itineraries are fabulous. Which one will you be on? Your choice may be decided by dates. If not, maybe it will come down to a decision between a visit to Rome or an overnight in Palma de Mallorca. Maybe a visit to the scented isle of Corsica or the flamboyance of Cannes in the South of France. Portugal's capital city of Lisbon where you can spend an exciting sightseeing day or Cadiz, Europe's oldest city. Whichever you choose, rely on Royal Caribbean to look after you for 14 magnificent days!

7 NIGHT WESTERN MEDITERRANEAN

These seven night cruises may be short but the itineraries offer some jewels. For example, anyone who cruises will know Livorno in Italy, is the port from which you can visit Florence and Pisa. Of course, they're both sensational cities. But if you've 'done' them, don't forget you can also visit Lucca, one of our very favourite Italian destinations. It's a complete delight, not to be missed.

MINI-CRUISES IN 2011

Why not enjoy a short break in 2011 with a choice of mini-cruises to suit a budget or a date? Always very popular, the value offered is superb and presents a major alternative to taking city breaks. The bonus is, very simply, that you have full board on the ship plus all entertainment. Early booking prices are probably the best we've ever seen, especially for the new ships. These cruises are all suitable for first-time cruisers looking for a taster of life at sea, as well as for us 'old hands' wanting a short break!

OKAY, WE KNOW ENGLAND IS BEST. BUT NEW ENGLAND IS NOT FAR BEHIND.

We're patriotic to a fault but we also like to leave the old country to visit the ex-colonies from time to time, just to see how they're getting on without us – only kidding! One of the great advantages of a New England cruise is the opportunity it gives you to add on nights in New York. If you're tired of London, you're tired of life, said the good Dr Johnson. But if you're tired of 'New York, New York' it's probably because you've been out on the town all night, singing in the rain and dancing like Gene Kelly - you wish. Or is it the lobsters? Everyone who has ever been to New England will tell you about the lobsters. No exaggeration, they are gorgeous. The biggest draw of all, of course is the fall. Autumn in New York may be the famous song, but for a few weeks every year, the whole east coast lights up in a technicolour display the whole world wants to see. There are famous cities, not least being Boston, and famous resorts such as Bar Harbor. And when you sail 'round the top' so to speak, into the Gulf of St Lawrence, there the small matter of Canada awaits you. No wonder the east coast cruises are so popular.

ULTIMATE 15 NIGHT NEW ENGLAND AND CANADA

For many of our clients, one of the delights this cruise is the chance to add on nights in New York. Just to sail in and out of the fabulous harbour is a sensational experience. The itinerary is great. Don't forget to pay a visit to the charming capital of Prince Edward Island, Charlottetown. You have an overnight in Quebec and visit some delightful ports such as Bar Harbor. On top of this you get the chance to see the magic colours of the world famous 'fall'.
